MARKING A NEW PHASE IN LEBANON'S FUTURE

The most established trade Fair in Lebanon will be back in its 25th edition on April 24 - 26, 2024, at Seaside Arena, Beirut. As the premier event of its kind in the region and building on its vast experience in the construction, infrastructure and energy sectors, Project Lebanon 2024 will usher in a new phase in Lebanon's history.

THE 2024 EDITION WILL FOCUS ON:

The public and private sectors will gather under one roof to discuss and explore the future of Lebanon's construction, infrastructure, and energy sectors.

Project Lebanon 2024 is set to attract local, regional and international industry leaders, decision makers, investors as well as solution providers to network, establish partnerships and find growth opportunities.

A 360-DEGREE COVERAGE

OF LEBANON'S DEVELOPMENT SECTORS

INFRASTRUCTURE AND CONSTRUCTION

The infrastructure and construction sector are one of the vital pillars of a country's economy. In Lebanon, despite the recurrent crises, this sector has managed to maintain a certain stability during critical times and then resurge afterwards.

ON-SHORE OIL AND GAS SERVICES

Following the signing of the Exploration and Production Agreements (EPAs) for blocks 4 and 9 in Lebanon, the upstream oil and gas sector should constitute one of the enablers of economic development with collateral on-shore services that will prosper next to exploration fields, namely in terms of food supply, transportation, logistics, among others.

RENEWABLE ENERGY

Lebanon has finally heeded the call of renewable energy to solve the problem of power shortage. Renewable energy resources – namely solar and wind – have become a key part in recovery plans and strategies.
